COLORFUL HAWAI'I

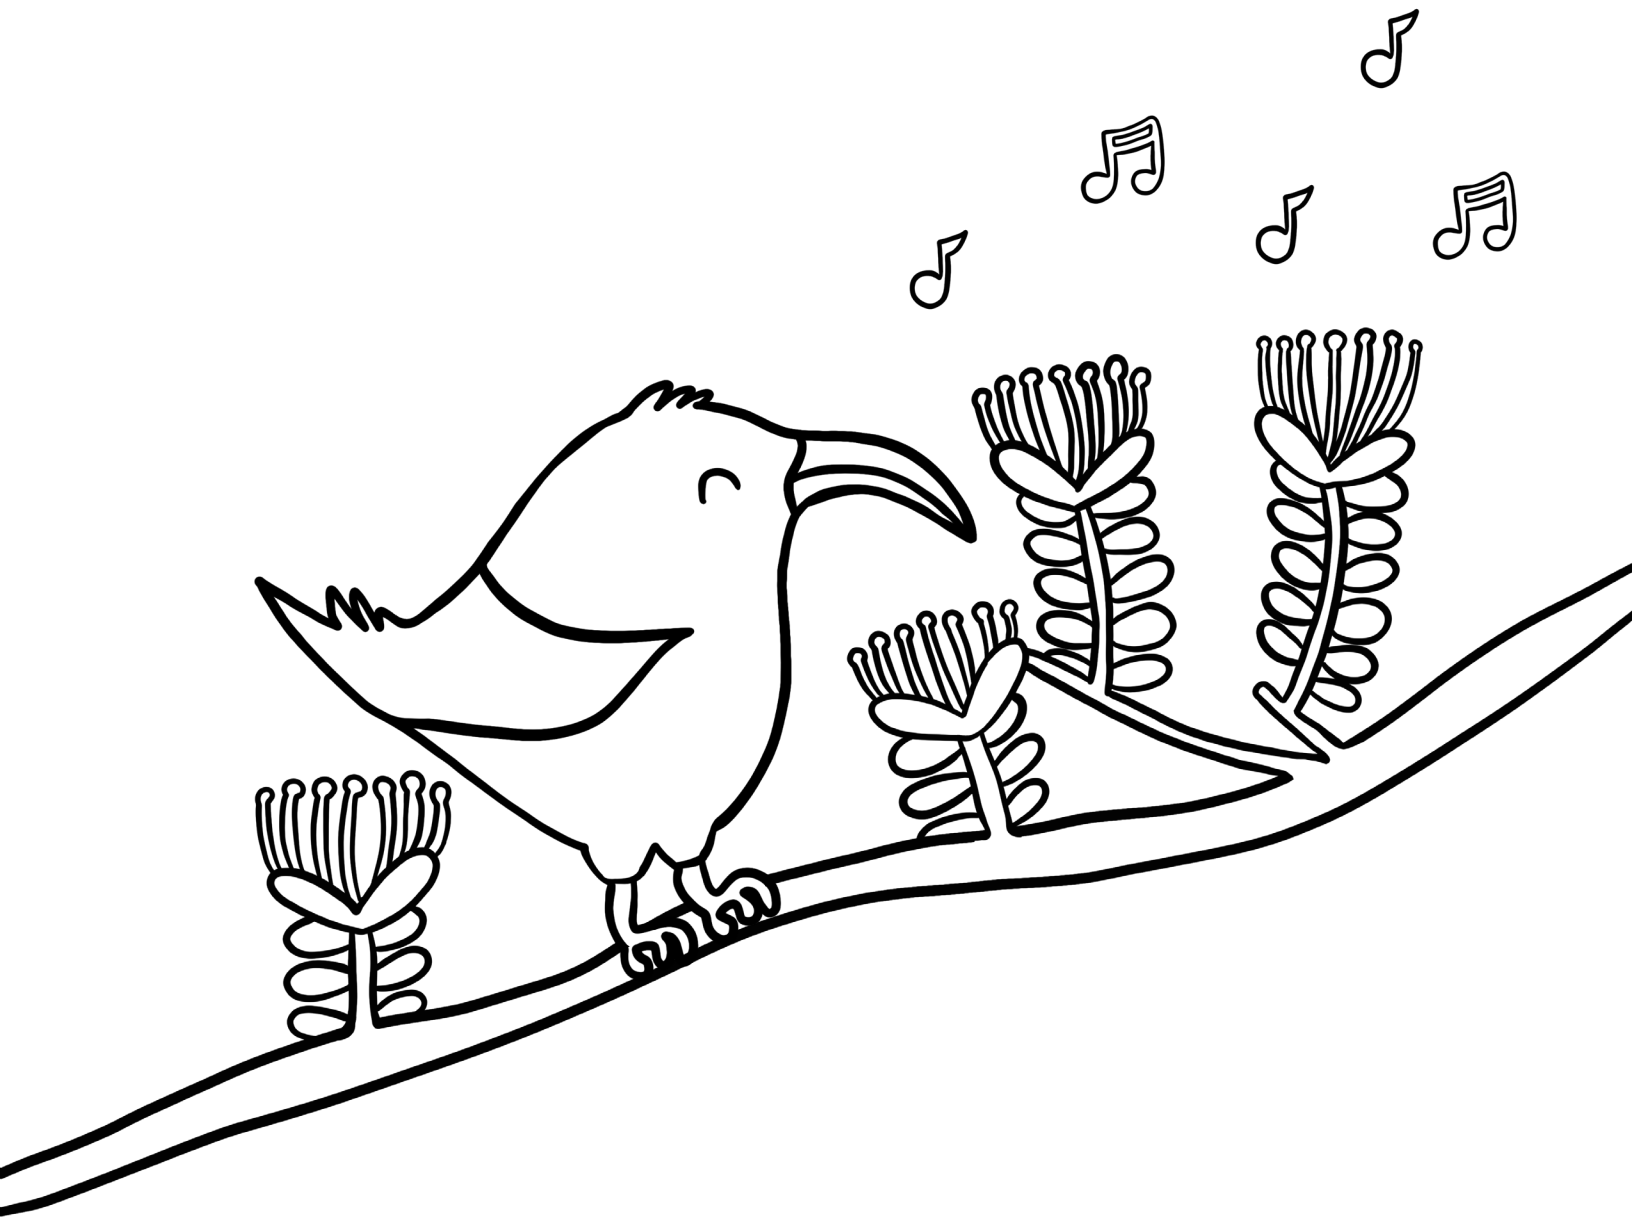

written by Lori Hashimoto
illustrated by Lena Miyasaki

colored by _____

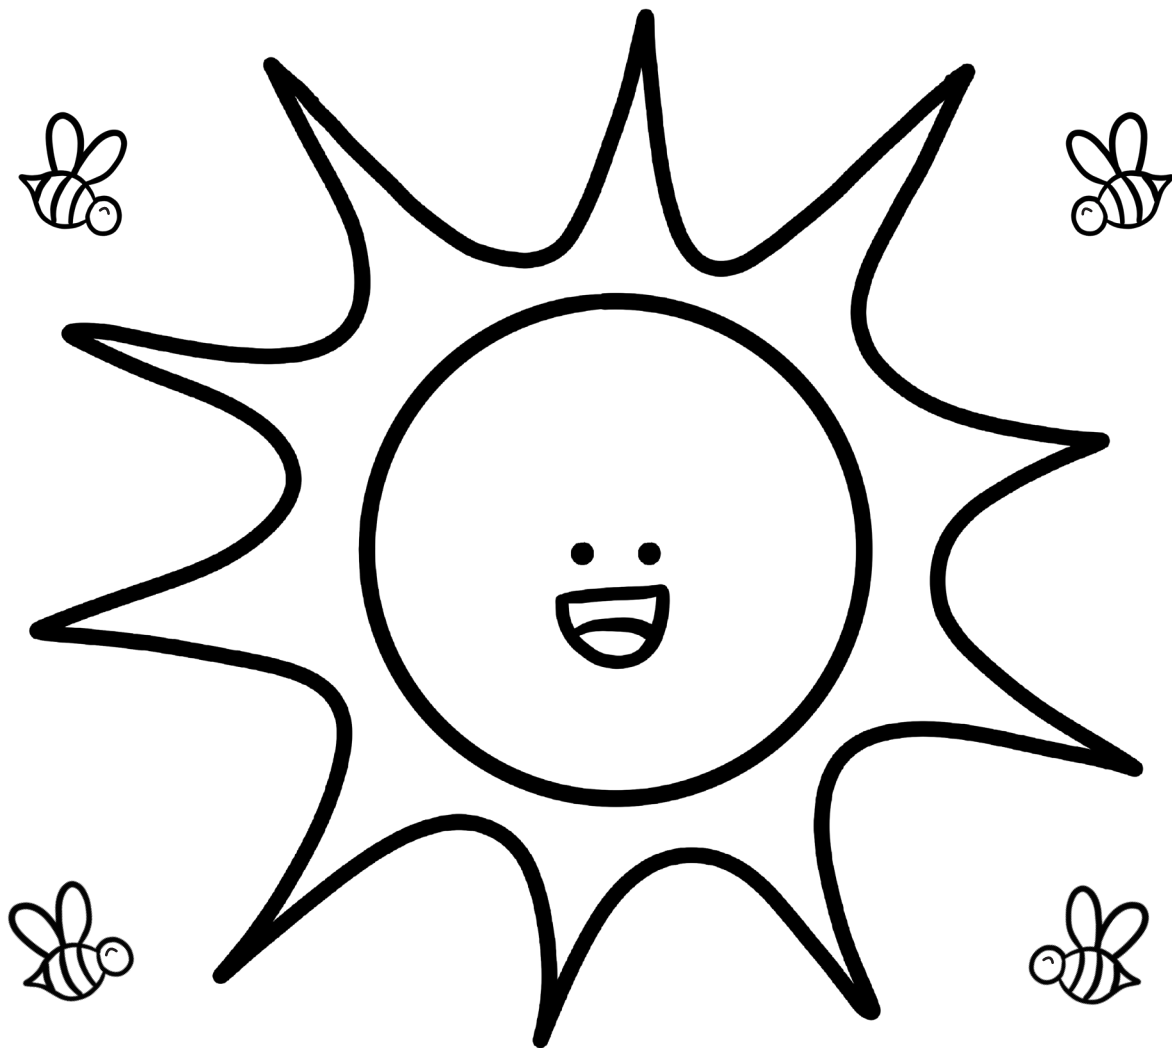

'ula'ula red

'I'iwi bird sings a sweet melody resting on the 'ōhi'a lehua tree.

melemele yellow

The bright shining lā means the day is here.
Look at all the bees buzzing here and there.

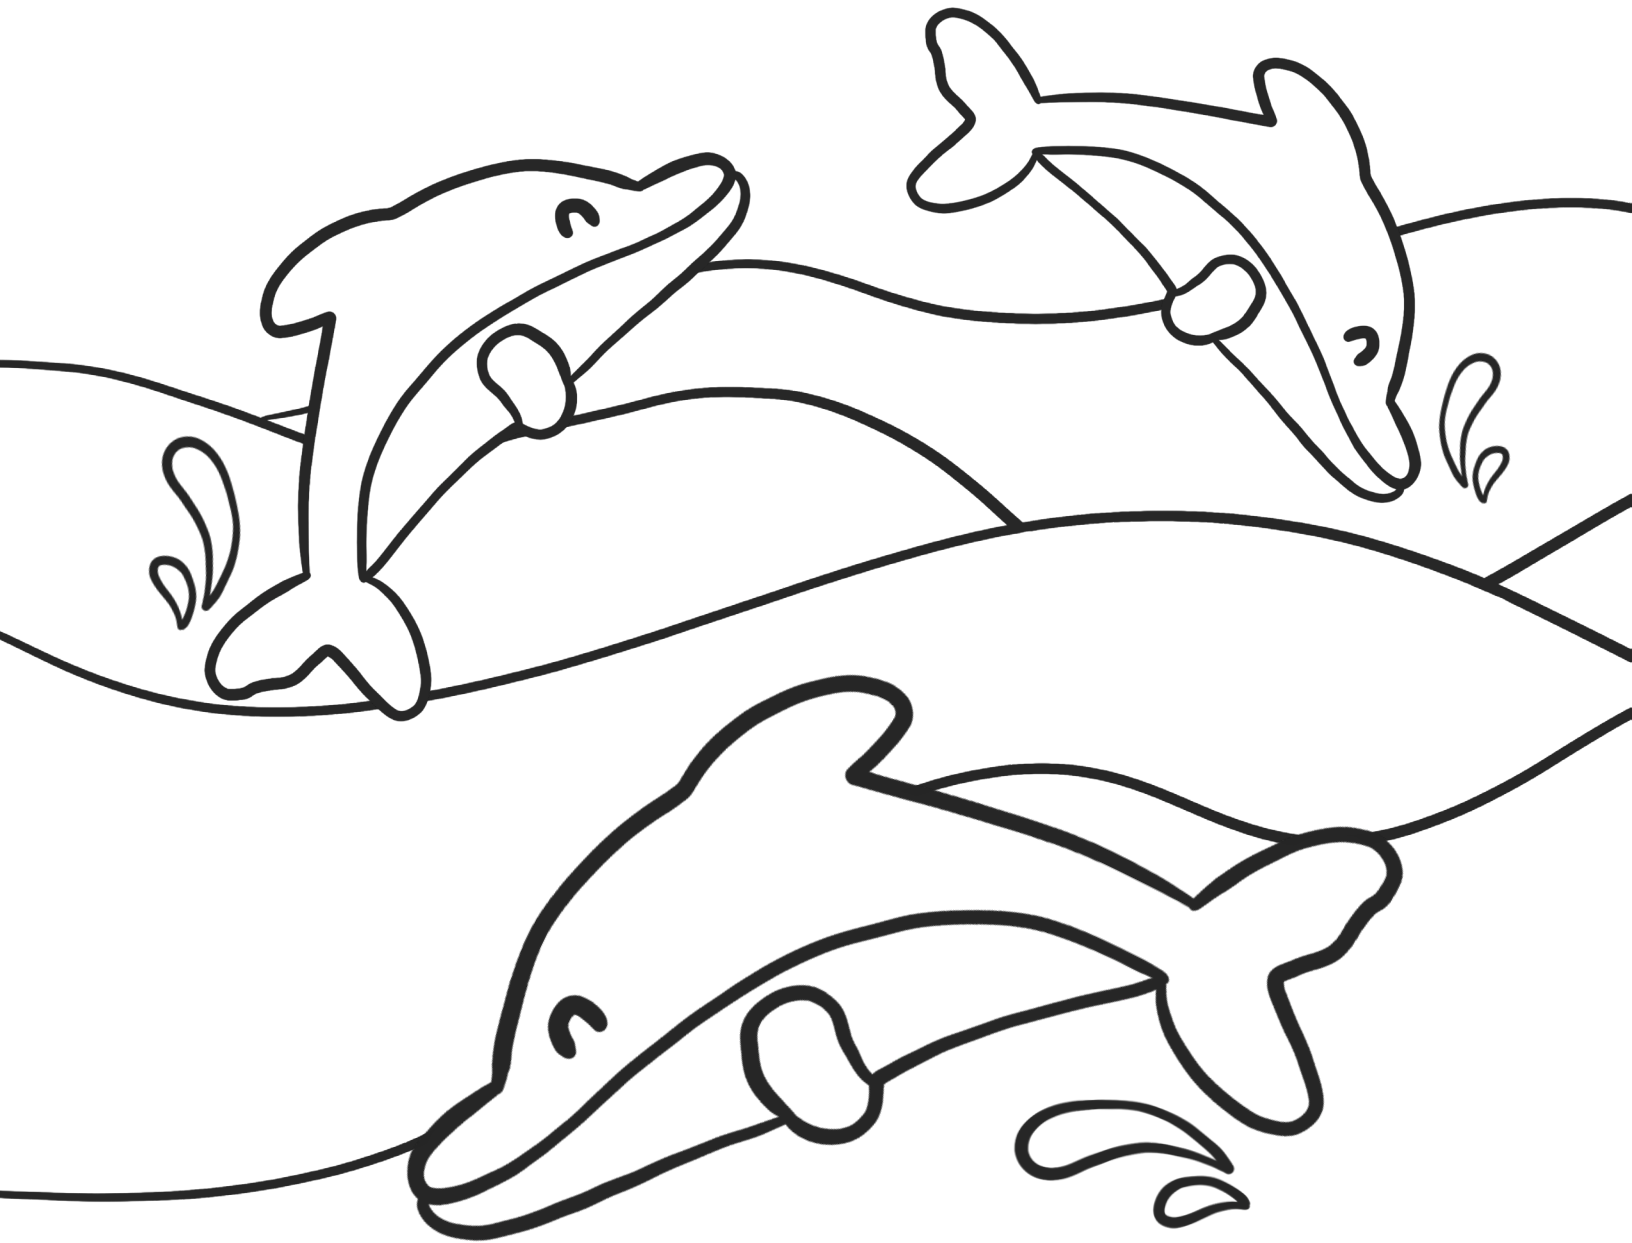

poni purple

Let's pound the kalo to make yummy poi
and share with our friends for all to enjoy.

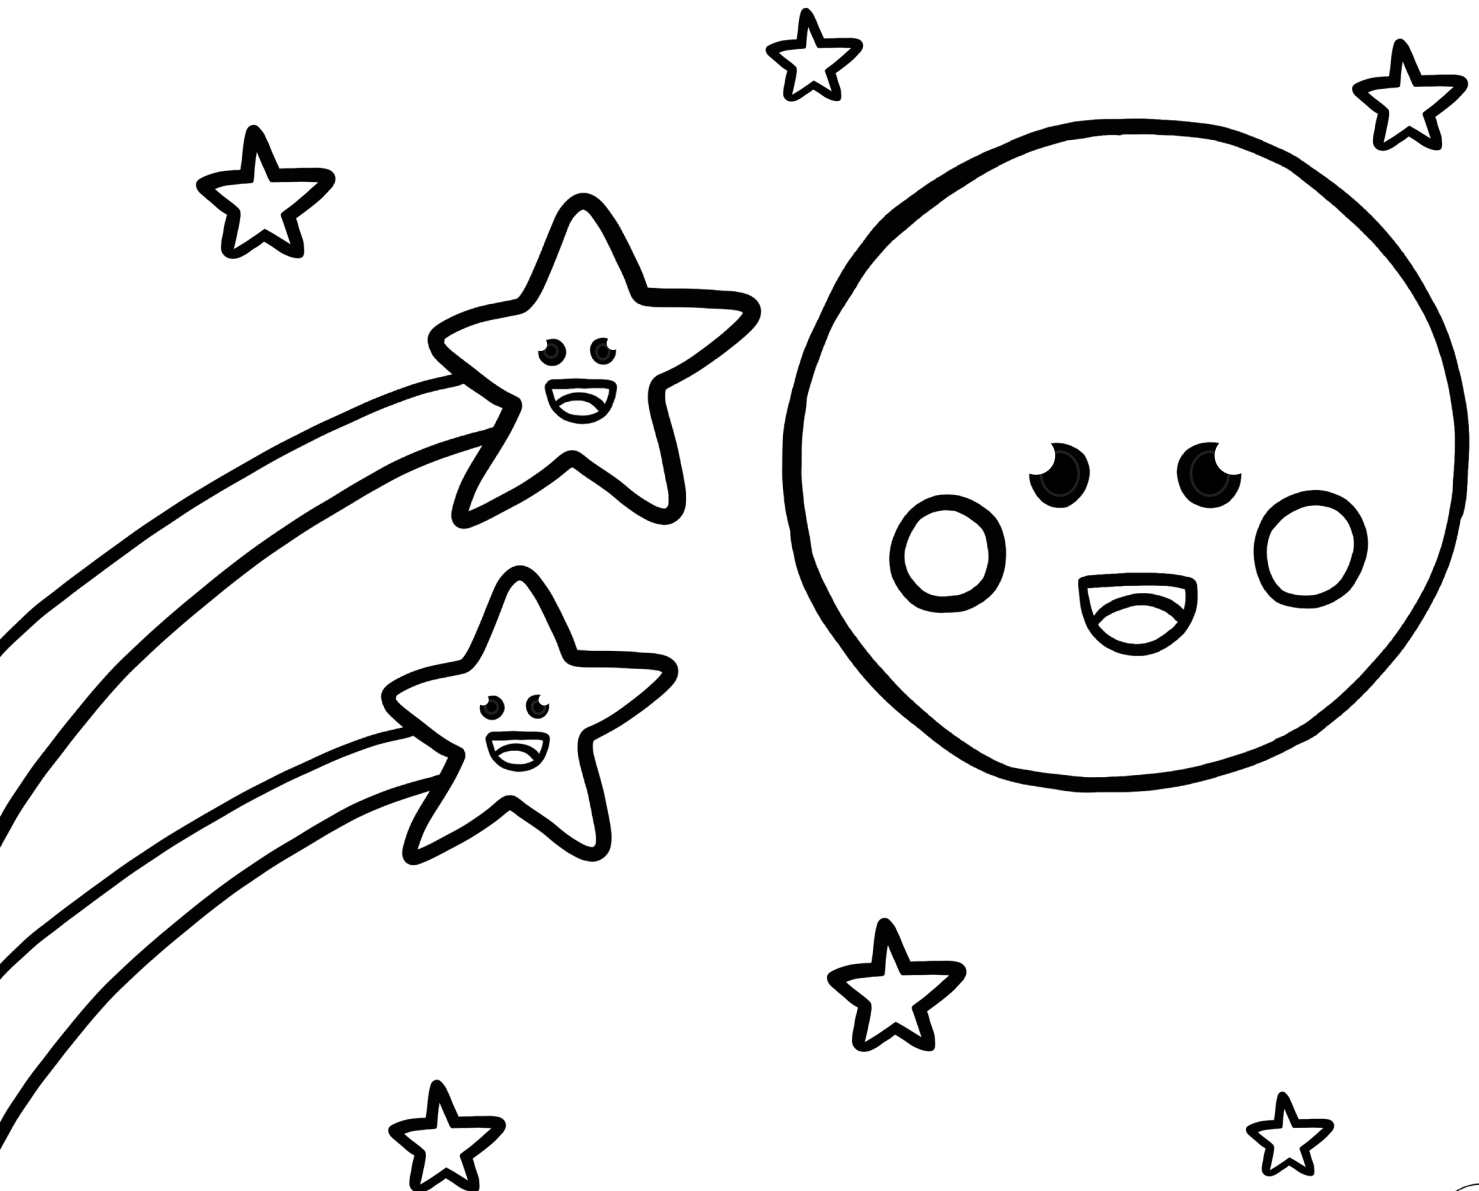

polū blue

Three friendly nai'a love to play and play, in the moana where they splash all day.

'ele'e black

Nā hōkū shine brightly in the sky with delight.
It's time to lie down and whisper, "Good night."

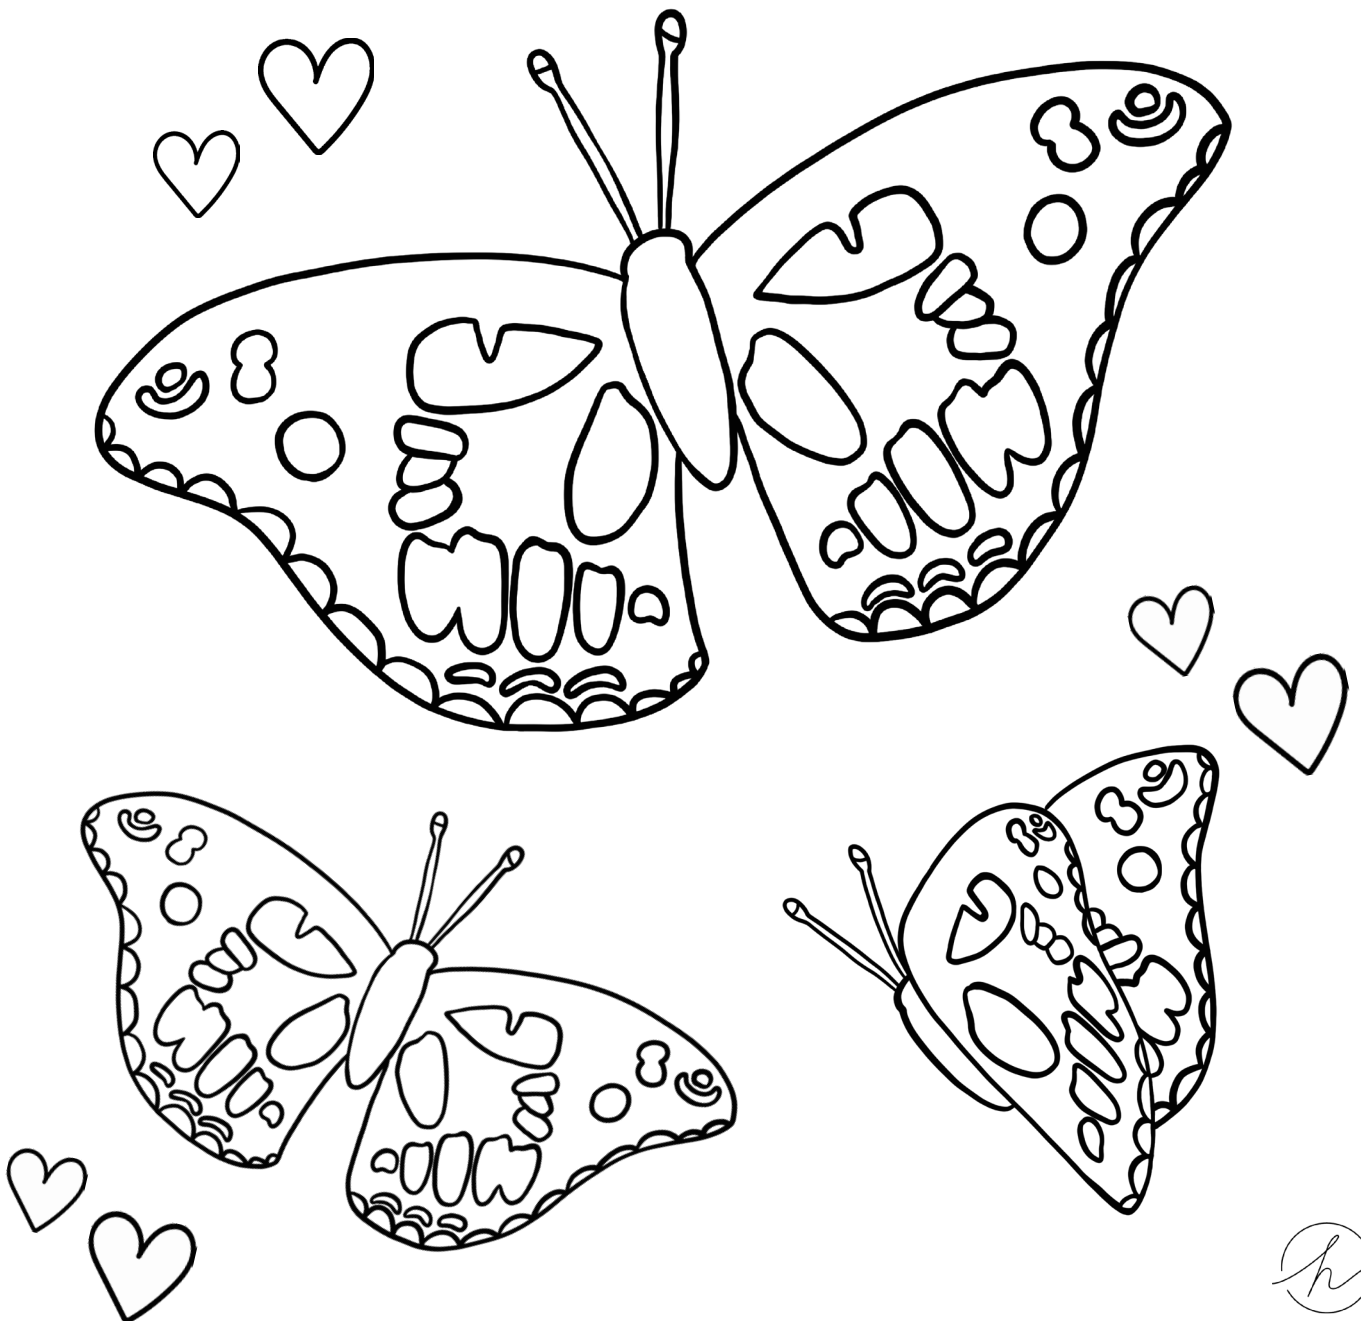

'ākala pink

'Ōpakapaka fish live deep under the sea swimming in the water as happy as can be.

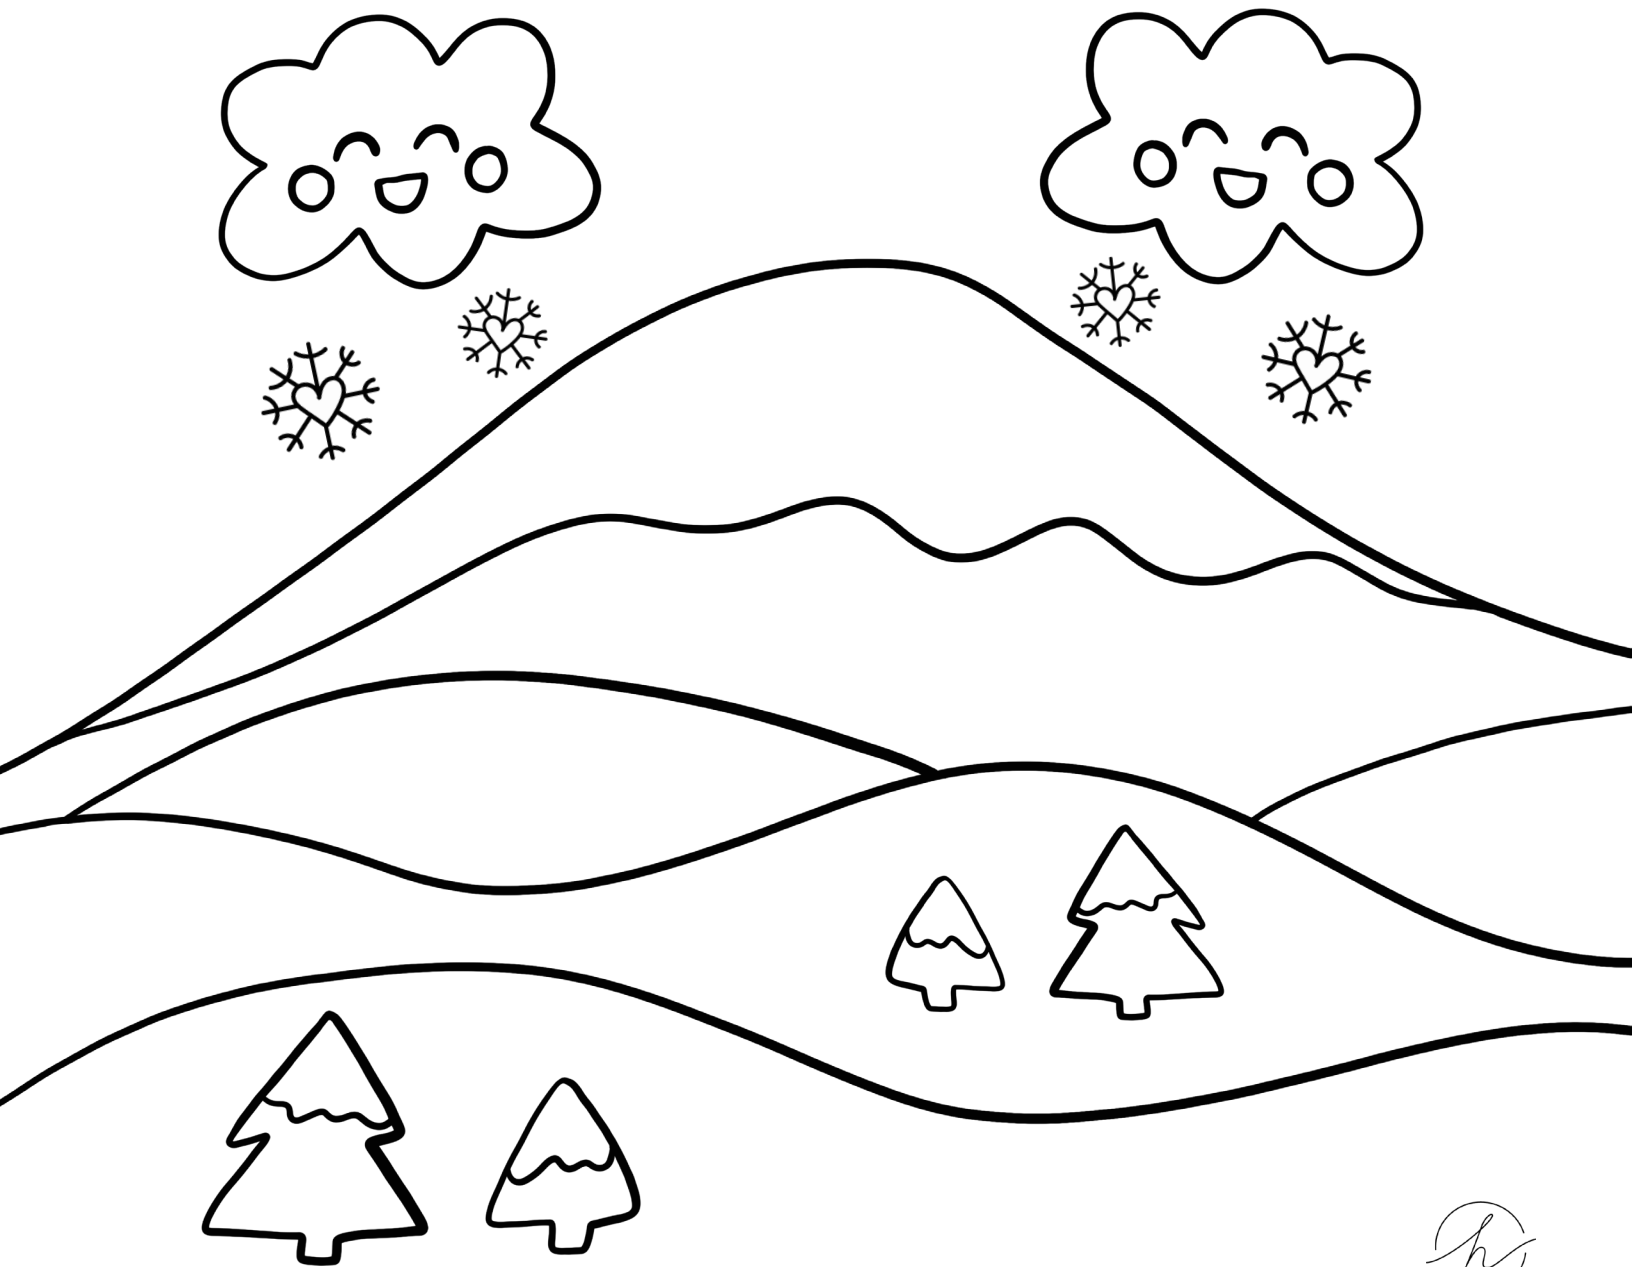

'alani orange

Pulelehua silent in the sky,
share their great beauty with all who pass by.

ke'oke'o white

High in the mauna snow falls on the peaks.
Let's bundle up tight. We don't want cold cheeks!

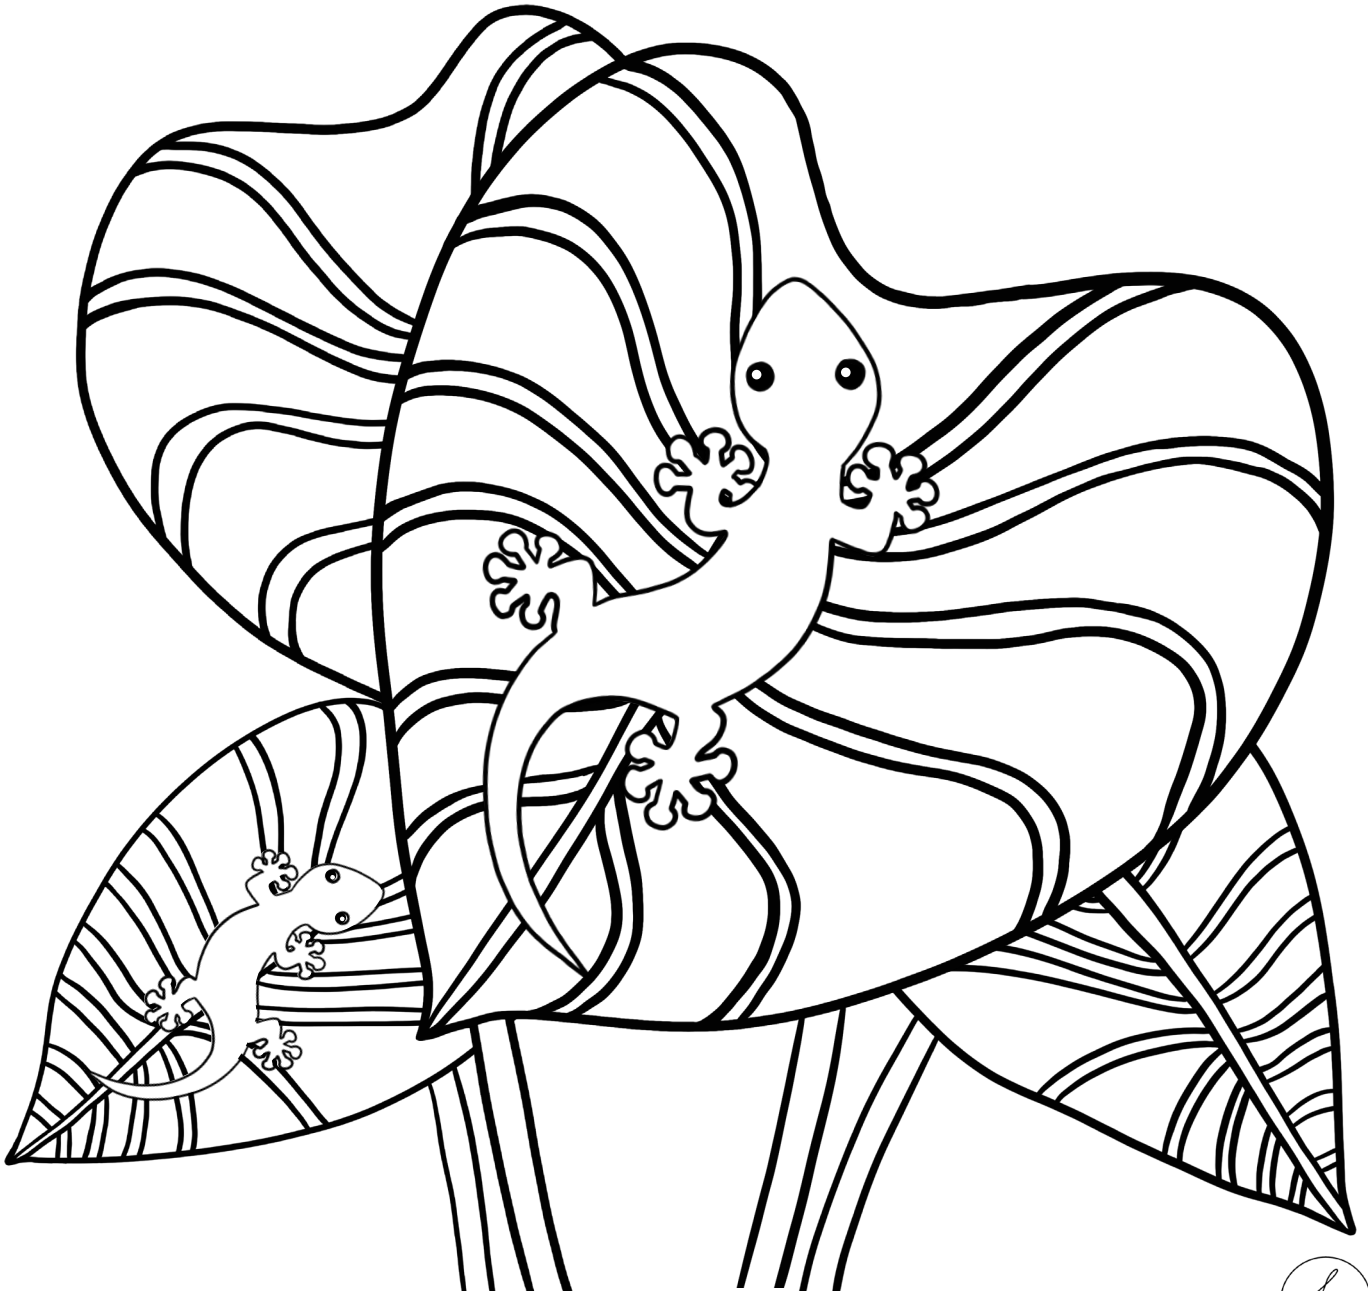

'āhinahina gray

Hawaiian monk seals lie along the kai,
on the lava rocks watching waves go by.

'ōma'ōma'ō green

Two little mo'o rest on kalo leaves,
waiting patiently for the next big feast.

māku'e brown

A koa canoe paddles out to sea,
then returns to rest by the shady trees.
